SHE WANTS PAPERS.
Fraulein Harder of Berkeley Asks to be Naturalized.
Associated Press Licensed-wire Service.
BERKELEY, Jan. 13.—Fraulein Anna

Harder of Berkeley intends to present her self at County Clerk Jordan's office tomorrow morning and ask for the preliminary naturalization papers usually taken out by male foreigners who seek to become citizens of the United States. She will be chaporoned by Miss Jacquemin, who attracted attention during the last campaign by her efforts to have her name placed on the Great Register.

While explaining to Frauline Harder that the bill recently introduced into the Legislature by Senator McGowan would soon entitle all women to vote, it suddenly occurred to Miss Jacquemin that her friend could not share the pleasure of voting because she is a native of the Fatherland. The fraulein being extremely anxious to exercise the elective franchise, the two ladies put their heads together and decided that there was nothing in the law that would prevent a foreign-born woman from becoming naturalized. Therefore they will put the matter to a test.

SEATTLE (Wash.) Jan. 13. — The steamer Utopia, while coming to this city from San Juan Island at 6:30 o'clock this morning, passed a submerged schooner, the Lily and Maud of Ballard, about three quarters of a mile to the windward of Deception Island, and saw two men clinging to the stern, shouting for help.

The steamer was brought around, notwithstanding great heavy seas were running, and a gale was blowing, and Max O'Brien and one of the crew threw two lines with life-buoys attached, but the poor fellows were evidently too benumbed with cold and exposure to take them, and were washed off and drowned. The names of the two men were Capt. Jack and man named William Foley.

HE SHOT HIS FRIEND

John Grant Receives an Ugly Wound.

The Pistol Accidentally Discharged by Mounted Policeman Maguire.

The Injured Man. Exonerates the Officer, and Declares that it Was Purely an Accident.

A serious, but accidental, shooting occurred in Leithwood's Eagle Saloon on Broadway yesterday morning, in which John Grant, of the firm of Stewart & Grant, contractors, was badly wounded by J. F. Maguire of the mounted police.

Grant has headquarters at the stable, besides his office on Requena street, and had gone there early yesterday morning for no particular reason other than force of habit. Maguire had been on night duty and reported off to his sergeant at 4 a.m. that morning. He had been at a death watch over the body of Mrs. Dan Walsh at her residence until 7 a.m. He had put up his horse in the stall and had been in a closet near. In this way he happened to have his revolver, a forty-five caliber Colt's, in his hand as he walked across the stable floor.

Grant was standing near the rear of the barn and noticed Maguire stop with the pistol swinging at his side. He stepped up behind the officer and jokingly said: "Look out, Mac, don't be monkeying with that gun."

Hardly had he finished speaking when Maguire swung about on his heel as though to reply. With the motion, the shot was fired.

Grant fell like a log to the ground, and his blood spattered on a post near by and dyed the carpet with a red stain.

Officers Huston, Baker and Macdonald were dispatched by Desk Sergeant Gridley to the scene, and soon had the wounded man in the Receiving Hospital. Maguire was distracted with what he had done, and held his friend's head in his arms while Dr. Bryant examined the hurt.

The bullet took a peculiar course. It went through Grant's head and that was in his trousers' pocket, through the flesh at the groin, and was deviated by smashing the left hipbone. From there it ranged down through the floor of the high, and broke through the skin above the knee, falling down inside the clothing. Dr. Bryant dressed the wound and as soon as it was possible to move him, he was taken to his home at Berkeley mansion at the corner of Second street and Benker Hill avenue, where he is now lying, and, though seriously injured, has chances for recovery.

The affair was first reported as a murder, but every time he spoke Grant exonerated his friend, Maguire, and told every one it was an accident. Maguire was deeply affected at the unfortunate occurrence, and his grief was very evident.

Grant has lived in this city about ten years, and is living with his father-in-law, F. W. Berkeley, up on the hill. Numerous friends called at the house yesterday or sent inquiries, but no one is permitted to see him at present.

MAGUIRE'S STATEMENT. Officer Maguire was seen later in the day, and was much moved when speaking of the occurrence.

"It was an awful experience for me," said he, "and I hope of the like again. You would not wish your worst enemy to have it; I do believe, if you knew the feeling. If I had wept I do believe I should have burst, my emotion was so great."

"Just as Grant says, it was all accidental. I was just about to buckle on my belt, and was placing the gun back in the holster after an extra duty, when Grant spoke to me. I turned quickly to answer the joke with a laugh, when, in some way, I don't know how, the thing went off, and the ball struck him. He fell, but I caught him before he reached the ground."

"Dr. Bryant told me my friend was not fatally injured, and I am glad of that. We have always been the best of friends."

Maguire's worry and loss of sleep had left visible traces, but he went on duty promptly at 8 o'clock last night. At last reports Grant was doing well.

Violated the Sunday Law. Several saloon-keepers have been surreptitiously selling liquor after midnight and on Sundays lately, and may have thought the law upon that head a dead letter, but the police have gathered in a few of their barkeepers whom they have had the presumption to place on extra duty, and it is probable the practice will be broken up.

At 1:30 Sunday morning a man named James Hinz was arrested by Officer Richards for selling liquor in a recently-opened saloon on Requena street. He was taken out on $50 bail.

Yesterday Harry Althouse, a former waiter in the New Vienna Buffet, was taken selling liquor at 9:15 p.m. at the United States saloon on Main street, and a bottle of liquor was sent in by Officer Richards in evidence. At 10:30 p.m. the same officer sent in H. E. Demis for selling at the O. K. saloon on Requena street, and a glass of wine is held in evidence. Both were released by friends depositing $50 apiece for them.

Two drunks were picked up, showing that tarantula juice flows rather too freely for Sunday observance. Officer Reynolds gathered in Jim Gibbons at 10:40 p.m. on Hill street, and Officer Kelle picked John Anderson from the gutter at 11:30 p.m. on Los Angeles street.

Dr. Leroy D. Brown. A San Luis Obispo exchange says: "Dr. Leroy D. Brown of Los Angeles has recently been elected superintendent of the schools of the city of San Luis Obispo. In this, our neighboring city is to be congratulated. Dr. Brown is a schoolmaster of advanced ideas. Acquainted with prominent educational men from the Atlantic to the Pacific, he will be a great help to him in his duties, aside from his scholastic training, that will be most valuable to the schools of San Luis Obispo. Full of business energy, he will at once impart to his associates the spirit of his own enthusiasm, which will cause the schools under his charge to equal the best in the State. His successful experience as State School Commissioner of Ohio, as well as that gained along many other lines of school work, will prove of great advantage to him; in short, the city near the entrance of the big tunnel now stands in the matter of school supervision, in the very front rank."

Carried a Gun. John W. Buford was arrested by Officer Kelle about midnight last night for raising a disturbance and carrying a concealed weapon. The officer had to knock the highly-colored individual down and use his locust on him to quell his fiery, untamed spirit.

The fellow was very saucy at the station. He was a restaurateur and "denied to reserve to low-down subterfuges," and gave up his gun. He said people had been stealing his milk at his place at No. 116 San Pedro street, near First, where he was arrested, and that he had healed himself to take blood. He had a large sum of money in his possession and complained that the police had taken his good name.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS FOR TODAY'S SESSION.

Appointments to be Made by the Mayor—The Election of a Police Surgeon—The Larabee Franchise.

If the number of important matters to come before it is any indication of the fact, the City Council will do a busy day's work. It is expected that the Mayor will report the appointment of four members of the Board of Health. In order to comply with the city charter it will be necessary for the appointments to be made by the Mayor and confirmed by the Council. There are different sections of the charter bearing on this matter, which although they do not conflict, will both need to be considered together, in order to be complied with.

The election of a police surgeon was last week postponed till today. It looks as if on the first roll-call there will be no choice, but it is believed that on the second, or third roll-call enough votes will be had for Dr. E. A. Bryant, the incumbent, to elect him.

For assistant building superintendent, more commonly known as plumbing inspector, it is expected there will be a contest. It is said there is a strong effort being made by certain parties to elect a man who will inspect plumbing more particularly to suit themselves.

Bids have not yet been advertised for printing the municipal reports for the past year, as was done twelve months ago. It is thought a movement to have such printing done in a form not necessarily expensive will be started at an early date, as by means of such printed reports any citizen who desires can much more readily ascertain desired information regarding the city's affairs.

At last Monday's meeting a message received from T. E. Rowan, Mayor, stating that he returned, without his approval, an ordinance granting a franchise to W. D. Larabee for certain extensive street-railway privileges. The message having been filed, the same morning it was referred to the City Attorney for an opinion as to whether T. E. Rowan could legally act as Mayor at the time the ordinance was filed.

A recommendation of the Finance Commission that 3000 feet of fire hose for use with the three new combination chemical and hose wagons be advertised for, is likely to be adopted, although the matter may first be referred to a committee.

A communication from the City Clerk calling attention to the need of making certain changes in the section of the license ordinance providing for the business of loaning money. Under the ordinance, as it present stands, a license may be collected from a pawnbroker, but cannot be collected from a man loaning money on collateral, unless he chooses to pay it, for the reason there is no way of proving it is not his own money he is loaning. Under the ordinance a man cannot be made to pay a license for loaning money on collateral, but he can be made to pay it, for the reason there is no way of proving it is not his own money he is loaning. STABBED HIS BROTHER.

FATAL CUTTING AFFRAY AT DOWNEY.

A Quarrel Over a Horse Results in One Brother Killing the Other—The Murderer in Jail.

A young man, almost a boy, named Samuel Taber, was taken to the County Jail yesterday afternoon by Constable Holgate from Downey, under a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Holgate stated that the young fellow had quarreled with his brother over a horse that morning and in the row had plunged the knife into the other's bowels, inflicting a probably fatal wound. Taber told about the same story, but qualified it with a protest that self-defense actuated the deed. He said that they all lived together in Downey and that his brother, Jesse Taber, is older than he. He became possessed of a horse recently and, yesterday morning took it home, to which proceeding Jesse objected and the quarrel ensued. From words they proceeded to blows and before Taber knew it Jesse had reached under his coat and had deprived him of a 35-caliber Smith & Wesson. He carried in his hip pocket, and told him with a blow from it in his clenched fist.

"Then we fought and clinched a minute," said the prisoner, "and I got out my knife and stuck it into him."

The knife was an ordinary long-bladed pocket-knife. The young man was apparently unaware of the seriousness of the crime, or else was very indifferent as to it.

LATER—About midnight it was reported that Taber had died from the effects of his wound. Later, however, a telephone message was received from the station at Downey that he was still alive, but that no hopes were entertained for his recovery.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA'S NEEDS

The Great Drawback to Her Settlement and Development.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 11.—(To the Editor of The Times.) Every one who has an ounce of sense must know that Southern California cannot be successful until she brings into cultivation all her storable lands. Her wealth is in her productions. Her vast plains, so rich in soil and blessed by such a climate, are worthless if moisture is not furnished by some system of irrigation. Many of these large unproductive tracts are being brought under cultivation by the Wright Irrigation Act, which authorizes the bonding of the lands of the district for money to purchase water for irrigation, taxing the lands for an amount necessary to pay the annual interest on the bonds at 6 per cent. per annum. Under this act many small farmers have bought homes in these districts, and they are generally paying their taxes to pay the interest on the bonds for furnishing them water. The writer, on a recent visit to one of these irrigation districts, found that it was not the poor man who was a debtor in his taxes, but the rich holder of lands in the district, who live in great bank buildings in Los Angeles and who prefer that their lands, which have cost them but little, shall lie waste forever, than that they should pay their pro rata part for furnishing water for the same. Here is another evidence of the curse of absentee landlordism. What do the rich holders of brush-covered lands, who are able to fare sumptuously every day, care whether water is furnished to develop their lands or not? They are able to live without it. The Wright act, if the directors have the capacity and courage to enforce it, will break up the large holdings of unproductive lands and thus aid in the development of the resources of Southern California. The law is sufficient to enforce the payment of taxes for the improvement of the lands, if rigidly enforced. If the holder of wild lands, within one of these districts objects to paying for putting water on it, let him sell it to those who are only too glad to buy their water at actual cost, payable in installments, running through twenty years at the low rate of 6 per cent. per annum for water. As absentee landlordism has long been the curse of Ireland, it is today the bane of success in Southern California.

IN the Dress Goods department you will find no old goods. No old styles. During the months of October, November and December we closed out every dollar's worth of undesirable and high-priced goods. The new tariff reduction found us in a position to take advantage of the big reductions on all classes of Dress Goods; there has been a big reduction, and that reduction is in your favor in the big Dress Goods department of this house. We have made our loss on Dress Goods, and are now making the lowest prices dress goods have ever been sold for. In addition to this, the Cloth department is in a position to sell Broadcloths at a big reduction. We will cut, fit and baste capes free for all who buy their materials here; we have done a big business in cape cutting and fitting since the advent of capes two years ago; the spring styles in big sleeves will necessitate the wearing of capes another season at least. We are selling the best line of Dress Goods you ever saw for 50c and 75c a yard; these are the new prices now in the Dress Goods department, and for the quality and width they are incomparable. Remnants in Silks, Velvets and wool Dress Goods at remnant prices.

The February Delineator is now on sale. The February patterns are now on sale. The February fashion sheets are here—free to all. We are closing out all Fur Capes at a big reduction. We are closing out all Cloaks at a big reduction. We are closing out all Capes at a big reduction. Every garment is marked in plain figures, and from this a big reduction is made. Do you know what you are doing when you trade with a house that marks their goods in characters and then claim to give a reduction? Do you know that it is a practice in this city to take what is called a "divvy"? A "divvy" means that all above the marked price is divided between the clerk and the proprietor; that is a "divvy," or in other words a plain steal. This "divvy" business is carried to an extreme in this city. There is no "divvy" in this house; we protect our customers.

(Cut this out and paste up in your stable.) NOTICE: NEVER USE HOT OR WARM WATER. It Ruins the Varnish.

How to Wash a Carriage.

Provide two large, soft sponges and chamôis. Never wash a carriage in the sun.

Remove the rugs and cushions, dust out the inside of top and trimmings. Now sponge off the outside of top, drying it with the gear chamôis. Then, with plenty of water, use the first sponge by pressing the water against the body until the dirt flows off. Do not rub the dirt into the varnish or get the sponge filled with it. After the dirt is washed off the body, dry it nicely with the damp chamôis. Then wet the gear and wheels in a similar way. Do not scrape the mud off with a knife or chip. After washing till quite clear, dry nicely with the damp gear chamôis. Wipe off any spots of water that are on the body.

Wash a new vehicle several times before using. By so doing you improve the lustre and durability of the varnish.

Blair of New York gave some of his recitations, imitations and stories in so pleasing a manner that he was repeatedly encored. J. W. Fulton's manipulation of cards in his tricks kept the members guessing how such things could be done. The following participated in entertaining the members and friends: W. F. LARGEST INDIAN BASKET
Ever Made by Tulare Indians.
Interest increases in the old Tulare baskets, for they were the finest ever made. So many old ones are found on the reservation. They are only in collections. W. D. Campbell, who has had the best baskets for the past three years, has just secured an entire collection of thirty-two old, rare ones from one of the best collectors on the Coast. Some of them are marvels of art, and positively unique. One of them is the most wonderful ever seen in California. It stands fully 3 feet high and 2 to 3 feet across the top. It is the finest woven large basket ever seen, and is covered with beautiful designs. To collectors who think they have the finest and largest baskets, this will be a revelation. It will hold about five bushels of grain, and was used for that purpose. All collectors are invited to call and examine this wonderful basket. Besides this one, there is a square basket, with beautiful cover. Also a long platter, with most intricate designs, that is over 100 years old. Also, a large collection of rare old ivory carvings, bone rattles, warblers, etc., from Alaska and South Seas. These are to be found only at W. D. Campbell's Curio Store, No. 225 South Spring street. Mr. Campbell is the only dealer in Southern California who has the old and unique curios of California and Alaska. He makes a study of them. If you want old Navaho "bulletin" blankets, old stone relics and baskets of California and rare curios from Alaska, you will find them only at Campbell's. The basket is too large to get in window; come in the store to see it.

A special invitation is extended to all persons wishing to encourage and take part in such a movement to assemble at the Blanchard-Fitzgerald Music Hall, on Thursday evening of this week, at 8 o'clock. John C. Dunster has proffered his services as conductor of the new society, and it is proposed to at once take up the oratorio of "Elisjah." Mr. Dunster's long and successful career in this class of work, both in England and in this country, is a guarantee of success.

BUDDHIST VS. CHRISTIAN.

A Couple of Drunks Air Their Religious Beliefs.

A Buddhist and a Christian met on the Nadeau curbstone Sunday evening, and began a wordy war. The Buddhist, who was first above, not for any reason, but because he pushed the argument, and was more sober than his pious friend. They both had been imbibing spirits in inspiring quantities, and were duly primed for a red-hot religious controversy.

The disciple of Buddha was a vagrant Englishman, who probably had at some time landed on the river front at Calcutta, and in his wanderings about the vicinity of the city had perhaps seen one of the old native temples, and incidentally had absorbed all the noble teachings of the heroic Prince Siddhartha, the whilom Light of Asia, whose spirit is reputed to glorify the sacred edifices with an eternal illumination.

The Christian was a vagrant newspaper man of more or less renown, who probably had patterned his "Now I lay me" at his mamma's knee, but who certainly had not heard a sermon since cutting the apron string. His most familiar associate never knew of his having any pious inclinations, but early training will tell, especially when the victim of it is "inspired," and they were greatly surprised when in a burst of holy zeal he undertook to defend the faith against the attacks of the heretical blasphemer.

They both leaned against the same post, and eyed each other warily. Neither had ever seen his vis-a-vis. "What's your name?" queried the Christian.

"Name's Tom. What's yours?" answered the Buddhist.

"Jerry. Say, you're drunk."

"Tom and Jerry glared and exchanged glares.

Then they silently embraced and entered into a serious confabulation, which continued until both became too noisy, and they were finally shut up by a policeman, who ordered the noise stopped.

THE CHINATOWN WAR.

The Rival Highbinders Will be Examined Today.

Lee Kim, Luey Foo and Yuen Sing will be taken before Justice Morrison today, to give an account of themselves in regard to the shooting away in Chinatown Saturday night. They are charged with having emptied their revolvers at Ham Ah Lock, and Ah Wong, of the Hop Sing faction. The Hop Sing people hope to prove their story of the fight, but maybe this, like other cases, will fall through. Wong Jee, the other of the four Bing Kong retainers, three of whom were arrested during the firing, is yet at large and cannot be found. He is the most desperate of the lot, and is known as a bad highbinder. The noon of the day of the shooting, he went to the corner of Apollonia and Alameda streets, and, with the other three behind the corner to back him up, yelled down toward Marchessault street that if any of the Hop Sing kept under cover.

The police heard the loud voices and saw the gestures, and the Chinamen getting under cover, in anticipation of a battle, but as it was all carried on in Chinese, they could not understand what it was all about.

The cooler Chinese, who belong to neither of the fighting gangs, expect some hot fighting before New Year's day. The heathens make it a point to settle up their grudges by that day, which will be about January 25, and the meaner has been piling up in large quantities recently. Then their recent successes in evading the law have encouraged them in their devilment.

Our offices are the most elaborate and private in the city, and you need see no one but the doctors. Private entrance on Third street prevents publicity. We make it a part of our business to deal in sacred confidence with our patients. We have abandoned the treatment of all diseases except every form of Private Weaknesses, Unnatural Secretions, Venereal diseases, their effects, Blood Taints and Surgical Diseases of Men. We believe that we thereby attain the highest possible degree of success for the speedy, thorough and permanent cure of these peculiar cases. Our experience has taught us that medicines alone will not cure these diseases. Improvement begins at once upon the application of our local treatment. Our book on the nature and treatment of these diseases, together with rules for diet, exercise and sleep sent free on application; also our self-diagnosis sheet and our opinion as to the curability of the case.
